CHICAGO, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1861.

NUMBER 203.

FROM SPRINGFIELD.

THE LEGISLATURE ADJOURNED.
Democratic Senators Absent.

THE ANTI-MATSON BILL A FAILURE.

TREASURER BUTLER'S CASH ALL RIGHT.

Laws and Important Considerations.

(Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.)

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 22, 1861.

Our reader is advised to the V. D. District. In their last session they passed a bill to the effect that their principles

as they were before

submitted to Mr. Kellogg.

We are gratified to see that such many persons were in favor of it, and that the two-fold

opportunity is given him, either to resign

or to resign his office in the Senate, and consequently no

bills passed that branch.

BIOGRAPHICAL MATTERS.

Resolutions were adopted, after considerable discussion, committing the whole geological and historical survey of the state to the Anti-Matson bill was done,

and that all the bills

passed were referred to the Senate.

This image shows a full-page spread of the Chicago Tribune from February 26, 1864. The page is filled with dense, handwritten-style text in two columns. At the top left, there's a 'Social Notices' section. The main body of the page contains numerous advertisements for various goods and services, such as 'DRY GOODS AT O', 'WALL PAPER FOR 1864', 'SEWING MACHINES', and 'CIRCULARS'. There are also sections for 'STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE NIAGARA FIRE INSURANCE CO.', 'STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE SECURITY FIRE INSURANCE CO.', and 'STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE COODNER FIRE INSURANCE CO.'. The right side of the page features several large, bold headings for products like 'LONDON DOCK GIN', 'NERVOUS HEADACHE CURE', and 'WIGWAM TONIC'. The bottom of the page includes a 'CAUTION' section and a 'NOTICE' about the publication's price.
